The Government of India (GoI) has historically implemented Five-Year Plans to guide economic development.

As of my last update in October 2023, the last official Five-Year Plan was the Twelfth Five-Year Plan (2017-2022).

Key features of India's Five-Year Plans include:

1. Focus Areas: Each plan typically identifies key focus areas for economic development, such as infrastructure, agriculture, and social services.
2. Sectoral Planning: Strategies are developed for different sectors to boost productivity and growth.
3. Resource Allocation: Plans help in budgeting and allocating resources to various sectors and regions.
4. Monitoring and Evaluation: Progress is periodically evaluated to ensure the plan's objectives are being met.

If there are specific details or recent developments after 2023 regarding new plans, please provide more context.
